

I do have E. S. P. Do not dismiss this letter. It contains many grains of truth. I am certain of it.

Dear Mr. Wiseberg,

My own theory is that President Kennedy was killed as a fool-proof method of removing Robert Kennedy from the office of U. S. Attorney General without having a shadow of suspicion cast upon those who plotted the assassination. Probably members of the Mafia whose members had been indicted and whose trials were pending and whose trials have never taken place as a result of Robert Kennedy leaving the Justice Dept. (this may only be one level. see rest.)

Another rumor I have heard is that Kennedy was assassinated by members of his own cabinet whose dismissal He was planning. It's supposed to have something to do with continuation and enlargement of the Vietnam War. After their dismissal, Kennedy planned to get us out of the Vietnam trap he felt they had lead us into. Had you heard this rumor? (Maybe this is another level. see below.)

One thing I am certain of is that you or anyone else who wants to get at the truth will have to carry the search several layers thick, or deep, rather. Each group used another group with very different reasons for wanting Kennedy dead to do their work for them. I guess you might call it passing the buck. There may be as many as four separate section of society you will have to investigate before you reach the top, or instigating, group. This was to be sure that no matter how many layers of groups were penetrated to, there was little likelihood that all layers of overlapping groups would be penetrated through in anyones lifetime to reach the ultimate truth.

Therefor I think the shortest method would be to look for those names whose owners were members of at least two possibly involved groups and who could act as liason members and as persuader and sellers of the idea of the benefit of Kennedy's death to the next and lower group, and to help organize the plan, and to pass on the bounty money from the top group. The Cubans were the layer at the bottom. It was easy to persuade them. They had not forgotten the Bay of Pigs fiasco and were ready for revenge. The members of the C. I. A. were not the final and highest group, either. Most members of each group involved, that is except for the liason members, did not realize that their were any other groups involved besides their own. Oswald was a liason member. The bottom group he belonged to probably had Tippits and Jack Ruby and other Dallas Policemen as other members. Oswald had planned to clear himself as a counter espionage member instead of just a liason man. This would indict Ruby and Tippits and other policemen. Ruby was a member of more than one group.
